WE NOMINATE

Janet Mayo Jepsen, one of the Community's most far-seeing and energetic citizens, who this week retires from the presidency of the Borough Board of Education, a post to which she has devoted the time and effort an individual customarily invests in his or her life's work. A member of the Board since 1947 and its president for the past two years, Mrs. Jepsen leaves office with the re-assuring conviction that Princeton's educational questions, even in the face of mounting costs and an increasing student population, can be answered through "frank and open discussion of the many factors involved."

The two three-year terms Mrs. Jepsen has served on the Board span a dramatic chapter in the history of Princeton education—the reorganization of the Borough Schools in 1947-48, the remarkably high rating accorded the high school in 1949, the widening of the divisions of study, the unprecedented election of three Princeton administrators to the presidencies of their respective New Jersey Principals' Associations. And in the winter of 1953, the public, thanks to a comprehensive printed report initiated by Mrs. Jepsen and her colleagues, has a clear picture of what's what in the Borough school system.

Mrs. Jepsen, the first to deny that she merits any recognition for "rewarding experience", is in her 19th year as a Princetonian, and follows her eminent husband, Paleontologist Glenn L. Jepsen, onto TOWN TOPICS' cover. A 40-year old native of St. Paul, Minn., and a Vassar honors graduate with the Class of 1933, she gained her first training in education on Western dude ranches as a "kid-wrangler" (the ranching counterpart of a camp counselor). In Princeton, before her election to the Board of Education, she was President of the Women's College Club, Education Chairman of the League of Women Voters and a P.T.A. Director.

Her interests are fully as broad as the plans of study she has considered for the benefit of Princeton schoolchildren. At one time able to quote fielding and batting averages for the New York Yankees, she majored in mathematics at Vassar and for a period in World War II was a computer for the National Defense Research Council. She plays the piano "well enough to get along," enjoys tennis and swimming and loves the outdoor life, including pack-trips in the Far West. In recent years she has been sharing a relatively new enthusiasm, figure skating, with her 13-year old daughter, Kittie.

For constantly working for the benefit of others; for furthering sound public relations policies for tax-supported education in the Princeton Area; for feeling genuinely grateful to the people of Princeton for "having given me the great privilege of serving"; she is the Editors' nominee for

Topics of the Town

Divergent Viewpoints. The wheels carrying the community toward a vote on consolidation moved steadily this week but not without some friction. Accomplished, however, was the presentation of petitions to the town's two governing bodies which mean mandatory formation of a Joint Consolidation Committee, to be followed by a referendum on the plan this six-man body devises.

In Township Hall Monday night, Richard E. Chislett, co-chairman of the committee for Consolidation, accompanied the filing of a petition bearing 794 names with a variety of excerpts from "Problems in Service Levels," a book written a dozen years ago by Dr. William S. Carpenter. Dr. Carpenter is co-chairman of the Committee to Oppose Consolidation and the statements selected by Mr. Chislett purported to show that Dr. Carpenter favors a merger of the borough and township.

In Borough Hall Tuesday night, Martin Beck, former chairman of the Planning Board who has resumed residence in Princeton, presented a petition with some 1,260 signatures to the mayor and council. Mr. Beck was acting on behalf of Alan W. Carrick, co-chairman with Mr. Chislett, who was unable to be present.

Mrs. Albert W. Tucker and Mrs. John V. A. Fine, active in the campaign to circulate the petitions, released a statement recording the fact that every signature had been witnessed and every petition notarized. They went on to charge:

"In answer to complaints that residents of the Harrison Street Project would contribute a large share of the township signatures, the required 20% in the Township was obtained almost entirely outside the Project. An extra 4% margin was furnished by Project voters, many of whom are the future property owners of the Township. Needless to add, it does not decrease the feeling of distance between those legally registered Township citizens and their small local government to be told that they have no right to take an active part in a decision vitally affecting the future of their community."

In a third pronouncement for public consumption, Professor Jean Lahatut took issue with the League of Women Voters' Consolidation Report:

"There is nothing more constructive than alertness of individuals or groups of individuals working for good government and better planning of the physical environment in their community. However, speaking as a site planner with 27 years of practical experience, as a newcomer to Princeton of the 1928 vintage, as an individual and not as Chairman of —Continued on Page 2

the Princeton Township Planning Board, I wish to mention my surprise when I read the Conservation Report prepared by the League of Women Voters of Princeton.

"Probably as the result of over-enthusiasm for their crusade, the charming emulators of Eleanor of Aquitaine went as far as using the art of camouflage. In which the practice of deception is an indispensable tool, I am referring to statements relative to Planning, and as a specific clarification, for example, it would be interesting to know how the last three words in the following statement reached the Consolidation Report:

"We're there to be consolidation the recreational plans might include: a development of a seven-acre
area near the Princeton Shopping Center, which was given to the Township by its owner on condition that it be developed into a recreation area within two years," etc. The last three words were undoubtedly added in order to deceive us, I believe, there is no time limit in the restrictions contained in the deed."

Professor Labatut also commented on examples of cooperation in community planning among the Township, the Borough, West
Windsor Township and Princeton University, and then added that while there is a "chronic situation created by the total lack of timely regional planning around the site acquired by U. S. Steel," it is "still to be felt in the Princeton region." He warned:

"The effect can be as disastrous as a kind of slow motion atomic bomb exploded carelessly and without any thought of the consequences upon a large number of communities and a vast population." Professor Labatut added:

"The Princeton region is changing very fast. The protection of its character and meaning can be achieved mainly by overall plan of land-use and zoning which will act as a shock absorber against ruthless invading forces. Proper land-use and zoning regulations across municipal boundaries are as indispensable to the safety of the communities in the Princeton region as crossroads, traffic signs are indispensable to the safety of the individual.

"Consolidation or no consolidation, that is not the question, at this time, and if 'Thury' was the battle cry of Eleanor's Christian Armies, then Thury! . . . Thury!
. . . in a crusade against disastrous invading forces rather than in a distracting war between neighbors which, for the sake of immediate consolidation and centralization, can be followed by fast-increasing bureaucracy, expenses and taxes —
a Princeton revival of the New Deal."

Election Results. School election results Tuesday night favored the incumbents and the organization candidates. Both budgets were approved by margins ranging from 8 to 1 to 20 to 1.

The closest race was in the borough, where 641 voters gave Mrs.
Esther H. Roberts a 30-vote margin over Matthew B. Maxwell for third place. She polled 280 to his 250.

Bryan V. Moore again headed the ticket, winning a second term with 432 votes. Dr. Henry Abrams was also elected, polling 405. Defeated candidates included John J. Conroy, 202, and Mrs. Jane K.
Sussman, 108.

Princeton Township named William M. Karch, district clerk, 444;
George Conover, 427; and Henry Chamcey, 371 all incumbents.
Mrs. Louise Darke polled 400 without opposition for a one-year term; defeated for three-year terms were Mrs. Ruth Kleinberg, 212, and Mrs. Claire Levine, 103.

Shop at the Hospital. Somewhere you never expect a gift shop on the ground floor of a hospital; actually, it's a convenient spot. We're speaking, of course, about the Hospital Aid Shop in Princeton Hospital. Run for the benefit of the Hospital Fund, this shop combines a soda-light-lunch fountain with a gift shop, most of them selected with the needs of a hospital patient in mind.

Small packages of cheerful note paper would be welcome to any convalescent—after all, she can write the package out and not have to carry it home. Tiny jars of hand creams and lotions, a minute toothbrush, small address books, packets of bubble pins and tissues—all these mundane things can mean so much to a friend who is bedridden.

After fancier lines, you'll find hand-knit baby clothes (sacques, booties, shawls), a tiny silent butler that just fits under a book of matches, and at this time of year, plenty of Valentines.

The shop seems to specialize in gifts to amuse the sick child. Some wonderful plastic place mats, for example, with circus pictures, montages of Indian life, or colorful highway scenes that bring the outside world into a hospital room.

A child could easily entertain himself with a seraphim called "My Convalescence." In it he can enter the names of people who sent flowers, and some of the less grisly medical details of his progress. There are miniature playing cards, too, about two inches long, and soft rubber animals that wiggle when you turn a crank.

A child or an adult would love to look at a colorful gangly doll about 14 inches high, made of pipe cleaners and dressed like a harlequin. Incidentally, if you'd like to donate any hand-made garments, toys to the Shop, they'd be glad to offer them for sale. Proceeds, as we said, go to the Hospital Aid Fund.

One feature of the Shop, by the way, is a shopping cart for patients. An aid takes this cart around every afternoon so that patients may buy the assorted toilet goods we mentioned above. When summer comes, the Shop hopes to take cool drinks around with the toothpaste and the combs. Fine morale-builder.

Pied Piper on Nassau. Some people dance to the organina, some won't settle for anything less than an electric organ. Stop by the new Nassau Music Center at 242½ Nassau (opposite the Medical Group.) You'll find every kind of instrument except a Chinese zither. The shop even has pianos, for heaven's sake, and you know the size of those pianos.

This new venture belongs to Fred Lucas, who's been teaching music hereabouts for several years. He will now teach right in the shop—piano, organ, and accordion, with other qualified teachers for wind and string instruments. You can learn low-down jazz or the good—Continued on Page 8 part of the late winter scene for the better part of 20 years, has been the Philadelphia Skating Skating Club. In its place, the first regional figure skating championships to be held here will be staged in Baker Rink on March 21.

Known as the Philadelphia Area Championships, held previously at The Philadelphia Skating Club and Human Society in Ardmore, Pa., they will be sponsored this year by the Princeton Skating Club. In addition to these two organizations,
four others from Pennsylvania
will be represented.

Mrs. Quay Elected. Mrs. James
K. Quay, wife of the vice-president of Princeton Theological Seminary, has been elected president of the Y.W.C.A. to succeed Mrs.
Lewis A. Thomas. Mrs. John W.
Johnson and Mrs. Julian Bonfante will serve as vice-presidents. Mrs.
Joel Nystrom as treasurer and Mrs.
William Einolf will continue as treasurer.

Mrs. Quay, who spent 28 years in Egypt while her husband was with the American Mission and the Y.M.C.A., served there on the boards of both the National and the International Y.W.C.A. She was active in working for the merger of these two groups and shortly before she returned to this country in 1937, they were integrated into the Y.W.C.A. of Egypt.

Day of Prayer Planned. The annual World Day of Prayer will be observed here next Friday, February 20, under the auspices of the Princeton Council of Church Women.
A service will take place at 3:30
at the Methodist Church, with all Protestant churches cooperating.

The speaker will be the Rev.
Paul McMenahan, a missionary on furlough from Africa, whose topic will be "Thoughts from Egypt." Those who will take part in the program include Mrs. Benjamin Anderson, Mrs. Herbert Huffman,
Mrs. Wilbur Young, Mrs. George
Thomas and Mrs. Irving Mershon.

Mrs. Kathryn Baum of the Methodist Church is chairman of the committee on arrangements. Other members are Mrs. Harold Hos-son, Trinity Church; Mrs. Richard T. Tracy, First Presbyterian; Mrs.
Charles Woollen and Mrs. E. Urner
Goodman, Second Presbyterian;
Mrs. Howard Waxwood and Mrs.
Benjamin Anderson, Witherspoon
Presbyterian.

More Housing Urged. The need for privately-developed housing to care for "many families in the $5,000-$6,000 income range living in unbelievably bad conditions" is a major Princeton demand of the Boe-rough Planning Authority, reports.
Under federal law, those with income in excess of $3,600 are ineligible for units in public housing projects.

The Authority hopes that the figure can be increased for the Princeton area if additional units, already applied for, are authorized by Congress. Meanwhile, it may invoke its condemnation powers to acquire property for private development.

Through its vice-president,
W.H. Hazard, the Authority defined the policy it followed in allocating the 50 units in the John F. Hazard Homes in the Clay-Witherspoon Street area:

• A total of 210 applications was received, with recognition given all who resided in the "Princeton community"—borough or township—for at least one of the past four years. Former occupants of the site displaced by the project were given top priority (if eligible in other respects), followed by present borough residents and then by former borough residents.

• Of the 210 applicants, 72 were found eligible with respect to income, family composition, citizenship and other federal requirements. Only three of the 72 were eliminated by the residence requirement.

• Thirty-eight of the 50 units available went to families now living in the borough or displaced from the site by the project. Of the remaining 12 non-borough residents accepted, eight formerly lived within the municipal limits. Nine of the 12 are currently living in the township.

• Forty percent of the heads of families accepted are veterans.

Sportsmen Plan Dinner. The Squatters Fish and Game Club will hold its 19th annual banquet Saturday night at the Chambers Street firehouse. Richard Wood is the committee chairman. Albert A. Bernard, club president, will conduct a business meeting before the dinner. Other officers are James A. Lahey, vice-president; Leonard F. Kraus, treasurer; Rolland A. Prudhon, secretary; Leland G. Birch, William Geddes and Reuben F. Johnson are trustees.

Dr. Cook to Open Office. Dr. Alfred S. Cook, Jr., released from the U.S. Army with the rank of captain after two years in the Medical Corps, will open an office shortly at 357 Nassau Street. He enlisted in the Army in 1943, served in the Medical Corps for three years and was recalled to active duty in 1951. Dr. Cook was born in Princeton, and prepared in the public schools and The Hun School for Lehigh University and Washington and Lee. After army duty, he was graduated from Jefferson Medical College in 1947, and served his internship at Mercer Hospital, Trenton. He did graduate work at the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine and was associated with Dr. J. F. Pessel in 1949-50. His father, a resident of 41 Princeton Avenue, is vice-president in charge of advertising and sales of the Walker-Gordon Laboratory Co.

International Forum, Six Princeton High School students will participate Tuesday night at 8:15 in an International Student Exchange program, under the sponsorship of the P.T.A. Miss Doris Friedman will serve as moderator.

Each himself, and whatever instrument you choose, you can buy it right there on the other side of the partition.

Beside instruments, the shop has sheet music (most of it popular), music manuscripts, books and the like. You can even buy—but don't blame the consequences on us—a ukulele.

St. Valentine's Day. The next few paragraphs will be strongly redolent of chocolate, which seems to be the patron scent of Valentine's Day.

At Thorne's Drug Store, 168 Nassau, the Mrs. Stevens boxes are always in good taste. They come in one-and-one-half or two-and-a-half sizes.

At Verdi's, 110 Nassau, you'll find glass red hearts by Whitman, Scherffl and Faany Farmer, prices up to $4.50. Smaller purses can buy milk chocolate hearts for 10c and 25c—good for puppy love. At this store, too, something different in Valentine candy—a heart box of place fruits, stuffed. You pay only $1.89 for one-and-one-half pounds.

Virga makes Valentine doll on sale at Viecht's—seven inches high, trimmed in red and white for $2. For a special Valentine party, order ice-cream forms in heart shape.

Valentine tea-party? Try the sugar cubes embossed with red cinnamon hearts, at The Block Lantern, 8 Chambers. Lots of party favors in this shop: heart nut-cups, red snappers, and a plastic coated paper plate (won't absorb that ice-cream), with matching napkin in 16x16" size.

Louis Sherry makes the chocolates on sale at the Nassau Candy Centre, 52 Nassau. Prices go up to $5.50 for the best quality in this brand. Mary Lincoln chocolates in small heart box for as little as 50 cents the quarter-pound. These candies are made by a famous chocolatier who wants his name kept out of it, but he can't hide the quality.

At the same store, you can pick up for dessert a chocolate marshmallow hostess roll (hear those calories?) by Sherry. This is the ice-cream of the month for February—chocolate, vanilla or strawberry.

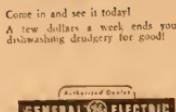

Spicy or Sweet. If you have a chocolate allergy, tip off your Valentine about some perfumes and cosmetics we found around town, just in time (plus tax) for somebody to buy.

At Thorne's, Indescent is selling for $1.95, a mark down from $4.50, and that's worth anybody's tax. It's the same fine Lelong product—8 ounces of cologne—and you get the reduction because Lelong is apparently

ently going to try some new pack-

Elizabeth Arden offers her heart, made like a pincushion, of all things, in a case with "My Love" for $3. Matchabell puts "Two in a Hat"—two tiny perfume bottles in a black Parisian hat box for $2.50. Ask St. Valentine for Sortilege, by Le Galion, one-eighth ounce of perfume and a white satin heart sachet for $5.

Mary Chess, at Elise Goupil, 217 Nassau, has "Twin Pawns" in a box for $3.60. An exquisite little floral sachet, delicate as a violet, goes for $1 in any of eight different scents. A spill-proof perfume flacon, lipstick size, would go into your purse and never let its secret out. Bath oils, toilet soap, and an assorted box of five different scents—all in the quiet Mary Chess packages.

Victorian Valentine. At The Flower Basket, 136 Nassau, someone could buy you a corsage made by Mrs. Hillier, winner of the gold award for the most unusual corsage at the last florists' show.

How about a gift in the Victorian style? Figurines, painted, gold trimmed; high china boots painted with old-fashioned flowers; fluted glass novelties, like the translucent basket in white, the pink glass vase, an epergne in a combination of cut and translucent glasses, or a white fluted glass flower pot for the sun to shine through.

Jewelry is white and gold, in the same Victorian manner. We saw a bracelet and earring set from Persia: Oriental scenes hand-painted on mother-of-pearl rectangles for only $6. With jewelry like that, you could be anybody's Valentine.

Princeton Council No. 638, Knights of Columbus, netted $507.45 for the March of Dimes through its spaghetti supper. William Larkin, chairman of the committee, has given the sum to Paul C. Alford, Jr., head of the Princeton March of Dimes drive. Proceeds are the highest the Knights have raised during the six years the dinner has been held.

St. Pauls PTA will hear Theodore Doyle of the Princeton Film Center at its February meeting Friday night at 8. Mr. Doyle will direct the fashion show which the association is staging next month.

The Y.M.C.A. will hold the opening meeting of its 1953 Member Re-enrollment drive next Thursday, February 19, hearing an address by Dr. William T. Hanzsche, pastor of the Prospect Street Presbyterian Church in Trenton. A goal of 999 new and renewal members has been set, with Ralph S. Mason serving as general chairman. Theodore D. Vreeland, Simeon F. Moss and Raymond F. Male are division leaders.

The Princeton Chapter of the United World Federalists will meet Thursday, February 19, at the home of the finance chairman, Howard Felsher. Harland W. Hoisington, Jr., chapter chairman, will speak.

News of the Theatres

Summer Stock. The rumor reported here two months ago that Princeton would have at least one summer theatre company was confirmed this week by the announcement of formation of a University Players group for the 1953 season.

Charles H. Schultz '54, veteran of the past two Triangle Club shows as well as retiring president of Theatre Intime, will be the producer for the new Players. His present plans call for at least a six-week season in Murray Theatre (which will be air-cooled), to start sometime in June.

The company will have 11 resident players and other young actors and actresses will be signed for certain leading roles each week. The programming will have a definite hot weather entertainment pitch, but with an accent on quality plays which normally cannot be seen in summer stock because of producer tendencies to rely on traditional summer fare.

"An Italian Straw Hat" has been scheduled tentatively as one of the six plays. A performance would mark the American premiere for the farce by Eugene Labiche, which has previously been done as an Orson Welles' musical, an Italian film and is now playing in England.

James MacAllen has been signed to direct the Players. In television for the past three years, Mr. MacAllen is now associated with "Omnibus" and has previously served as the first director for the Houston, Tex., Arena Theatre, with summer stock companies throughout the country, and has toured with Sidney Blackmer.

Another development in the summer theatre picture was re-entrance of Herbert Kenwith on the scene. Mr. Kenwith met with the board of trustees of the Triangle Club for preliminary discussions on another season of the Princeton Summer Theatre in McCarter.

He is apparently interested in a seventh year at McCarter, despite the limited financial success of his previous seasons under the star package system. A decision will be made shortly, and should Mr. Kenwith not lease the theatre, it is understood that there may be further applicants.

Serious discussions on the future of McCarter remain in the background of the summer negotiations. Several changes may result from a projected meeting of University authorities and the Triangle Club.

The minimum possibilities include: appointment of a permanent manager for the theatre (whose duties would include additional pre-Broadway and road company bookings, and possibly running a permanent summer stock company); and undertaking of the estimated $50,000 in general repairs for the 24 year old structure.

Film Revival Series. Group Arts will again sponsor its spring series of film classics. "Bombshell" with Jean Harlow will open the program next Friday, February 20. Showings for all five in the series will be at 7 and 9 p.m. in McCosh Hall on the University campus. (For full schedule and ticket information, see advertisement on page 14.)

Group Arts has also announced that tickets for the benefit concert by Dorothy Maynor will go on sale at the University Store Monday. —Continued on Page 14

The concert by the world famous soprano will be held Saturday, February 21, at 8:30 p.m. in McCarter Theatre. Tickets are now available at the Group Arts Center (14 Spring Street, tel. 2052) weekdays from 9 a.m. to noon.

THE PLAYHOUSE

Above and Beyond. (Thurs.-Sat.) deals with a naturally dramatic situation: the key decisions in dropping the first atom bomb and the human conflicts they create. Robert Taylor plays an Air Force colonel who trains the bomber crew and decides when and where the bomb is to be dropped. Eleanor Parker is cast as his wife, who cannot be told what is going on for security reasons. Longish, and tinged with soap opera.

The Jazz Singer (Sun.-Tues.) is a re-make of the landmark film starring Al Jolson which brought in the talking picture era. The story of a cantor's son who aspires to show business is virtually identical. Danny Thomas brings his totally different but appealing talents to the leading part and Peggy Lee is along to add more songs. The music ranging from new songs, standards by Cole Porter to the music of the temple contrasts impressively, but the film fails to knit together.

The Stooge (Wed.-Sat.) It's difficult not to like the Martin and Lewis team in this film, which shows more class than its predecessors. Dean is a song-and-dance singer on the vaudeville circuit who bolsters his act with a stooge but refuses to give him proper credit or pay. Jerry as the slow-thinking stooge provides uproarious comedy with his antics and superlative timing and in addition, occasional pathos with a tight touch. Polly Bergen and Marion Marshall appear for romantic reasons.

THE GARDEN

The Savage (Fri.-Sat.) will immerse the Western addict in a sea of Technicolor war-whooping by assorted Indians and white men. The film has something of a story, with Charlton Heston, as a white man raised by Indians, having considerable trouble in figuring out where his loyalties should lie. The companion piece is "Beaver Valley," one of Walt Disney's top-notch half-hour studies of animal life, in color.

Girls in the Night (Mon.-Tues.) doesn't quite make the grade dramatically, but it has a good deal of realism and a fair point about the conditions of juvenile delinquency. Two couples from the tenements of New York's lower East Side are involved in rooftop romances, street adventures and finally with the police because of a murder.

Under the Red Sea (Wed.-Thurs.) for some reason plays along with "The Hoaxters," an expose of communism. The former is a strikingly original and excellent documentary of marine life and special experiments photographed under water. The latter is a well-intentioned but unimaginative treatment of the communist menace, narrated by eight leading figures of the film industry.

The Redhead from Wyoming (Fri. - Sat.) has enough double-crossing to leave everyone confused at the end if it weren't for an epic and gory battle that winds matters up. Everything is included to complete the Technicolor Western formula. Maureen O'Hara is the redhead and Alex Nicol is the hero.

Sports in Princeton

Form Reversals. Dartmouth's hockey team and Harvard's basketball team provided the stepping stones last week that their Princeton counterparts were able to hit the comeback trail. Each was turned back emphatically on Saturday, the manner in which the victories were achieved brightening Tiger fortunes by a considerable margin.

It is fully apparent, however, that the toughest tests are still ahead. Hampered by lack of ice, not just this year but for each of several warm winters, Dartmouth's hockey teams have not been up to standard for years. A more true indication of Princeton's ability will come this Thursday night against Brown at Providence and next Tuesday evening against title-holding Yale in Baker Rink.

The Indians' plight does not, however, detract from a well-earned Nassau triumph. It was 4-0 and it was Princeton all the way, from the time Hank Bothfield scored in the first 14 seconds of play until Blair Torrey had made his 21st save and locked up his first shut-out of the season.

Bothfield intercepted a clearing pass in front of the Dartmouth cage immediately after play had started. His quick thrust beat goalie Gordon Russell and spread gloom over the Winter Carnival crowd of 2,000 undergraduates and their dates.

The Princeton captain had a fine day, adding another goal in the second period and helping Bill Gall set up Peter Gall early in the third round. A 10-foot shot by Bill Bancroft, with an assist to Jim Cleary, closed the day's scoring.

The contest was marred by rugged play caused by soft ice in the 40-degree temperature. Penalties were frequent in the first and third periods, when a total of 14 were called, while the second was without such incident. The home forces were tagged with eight but Bill Bancroft drew three of Princeton's six.

Brown's reversal of form at Harvard's expense gives the Tigers a major problem at Princeton this Thursday night. The Bruins had been set back twice by Yale but turned on the Crimson last Saturday to make Harvard's hopes for the 1953 title more difficult to realize. Off the first line that Dick Clasby centers and topflight sophomore material, the Massachusetts skaters have been installed as pre-season favorites.

Yale, meanwhile, is pacing the circuit with points as a result of its twin triumphs over Brown and a one-sided drubbing of Dartmouth. The Elis will give Dick Vaughan's operatives a full evening of competition Tuesday night, but the latter already have tripped the Blue once this season. In the R.F.I. tournament at Troy last December, it was Princeton 4, Yale 2.

Broken Records. Sophomore Bud Haberthuysen 49 points into the nets against Colgate and Harvard last week. This solid accomplishment not only sparked a resurgent drive by the Princeton basketball team but tied or broke five individual and team records.

Grover's Modular Method—

For a Soundly Built House

Our Modular Homes are NOT pre-fabs, they are structurally engineered homes for better living.
All materials used are suited to structural needs:
#1 kiln dried, Weyerhaeuser Lumber, galvanized,
rust resistant nails. Parts are cut on accurate jigs and templates, notched or dadoed to fit together like the parts of a machine. This eliminates waste of materials, and cuts down labor time.
Come in—let us help you choose your modular home
from many plans—Cape Cod, Colonials, Ranch types.
We'll explain financing details. We'll recommend a contractor.
